1. Cut out this pattern and attach it to a blank of 1/4” birch ply.
2. Put another piece of birch ply under the first and stack cut around the circle.
3. Drill a 1/4” hole through the two blanks at the x marks on either side of the circle.
4. Insert a 1/4” dowel about 1” long through the two holes you drilled
5. Drill a 1/8” hole through the center x mark
6. Remove the 1/4” dowels after you drill the center hole.
7. Cut out the running men from the TOP circle blank only.
8. Glue the top circle to the bottom circle, making sure the side holes line up.
9. Cut another sheet of birch ply about 12” x 9”. This will be the base for the circle plate.
10. Cut an 1/8” flat heat nail about 1” long, removing the point and round the end over.
11. Glue the nail facing up with CA glue about 4.5” x 4.5” in from either side of the base. The circle plate will sit on this and allow it to spin.
12. Glue in the end dowels on the circle, this will be for spinning the wheel.

12. Place the wheel on the center pin and spin to begin the game.
Running Wild
